Policy Details

1. World Organisation of the Scout Movement (WOSM)

The Boy Scouts Association, founded in the year 1907 by Lieut-General Robert Stephenson Smyth Baden-Powell (later Baron Baden-Powell of Gilwell), was incorporated by Royal Charter by His Britannic Majesty King George V in 1912 for the purpose of instructing boys of all classes in the principles of discipline, loyalty and good citizenship.

From the early years Scouting soon spread around the world, including South Africa. The Council of the Boy Scouts of the Union of South Africa became an independent autonomous founder member of the Boy Scouts International Conference on 1st December 1937.

The organs of the World Organization are:

- The World Scout Conference
The Conference meets triennially and is composed of six delegates from each country in which there is one or more than one recognised and registered Scout Association. WOSM recognises only one Association or Federation of Associations, in each country.
- The World Scout Committee
A World Committee of twelve members is elected by the Conference with power to act between Conference meetings.
- The World Scout Bureau
The World Scout Bureau is the secretariat of the Conference and of the World Committee. The Secretary-General is appointed by the World Committee. He is an ex-officio member of the Committee and is its secretary.

The Conference, Committee, and Bureau constitute the World Organisation of the Scout Movement.

The World Organization of the Scout Movement (WOSM) is an independent, worldwide, non-profit and non-partisan organisation which serves the Scout Movement. Its purpose is to promote unity and the understanding of Scouting's purpose and principles; while facilitating its expansion and development. WOSM was established in 1920, and has its headquarters at Geneva, Switzerland (soon to relocate). The mission of WOSM is "to contribute to the education of young people, through a value system based on the Scout Promise and Scout Law, to help build a better world where people are self-fulfilled as individuals and play a constructive role in society". WOSM is organized into regions to better facilitate communication and service to member countries, but any member country of WOSM is not bound to be a member of a Region or to pay any levies to the Region unless it voluntarily accepts membership of the Region.

It has had consultative status with the United Nations Economic and Social Council since 1947. It is recognised by the majority of UN agencies and governments and works in collaboration with other agents in areas or spheres of education and civil society.

WOSM also has power to:

- Decide on the admission of organisations applying for recognition and registration.
- Arrange for publicity, liaison, correspondence, and the interchange of visitors.
- Arrange the holding of World Scout Jamborees and other world gatherings and international events.
- Arrange through representative committees for the maintenance of common standards in adult leader training, public relations and the like.

The finances of the Conference, Committee, and Bureau are met by contributions from registered Associations.

SCOUTS South Africa (formerly the "Boy Scouts of South Africa and South African Scout Association") is a founder Member and registered with the World Scout Bureau as a member of the WOSM; and as such retains its right to attend and vote at World Conferences.

2. Africa Scout Region (World Organization of the Scout Movement)

For ease of administration the world is divided into Regions. The Africa Scout Region is the divisional office of the World Scout Bureau of the World Organization of the Scout Movement, headquartered in Nairobi, Kenya. The Africa Region services Scouting in Sub-Saharan Africa and neighbouring islands that are recognized members of the World Organization of the Scout Movement (WOSM). The region is led by the Regional Director.

South Africa forms part of the Africa Region.

The Africa Region is divided into zones. South Africa motivated and funded the Southern Zone made up of surrounding Countries and Territories in sub-Saharan Africa and by 1976 was already in existence. The primary purpose of this Zone was to share resources and facilities particularly Adult Leader Training. WOSM recognised the Southern Zone in 1987. Co-ordination is in the hands of a Zonal Conference that seeks to meet regularly.

3. SCOUTS South Africa

SCOUTS South Africa, by virtue of its membership of WOSM, is the only Scout Association, in South Africa, recognised by WOSM. Scouting began in South Africa in 1908 when the first Scout troops were formed. South Africa, particularly because of its close relationship with the Founder and the Siege of the then Mafeking, has contributed many traditions and symbols to World Scouting.

4. Communication

All communication with the World Scout Bureau, its Regional Offices and World Scout Committee is the responsibility of the Chief Scout, Chief Commissioner, and/or Chief Executive Officer.

All communication with National Scout Organisations is to be channelled through the National Office and be endorsed by the International Committee that will be responsible to the Chief Commissioner.

Communication with event organisers of International Scouting Events must be endorsed by the aforesaid.

Direct communication of a personal nature with Scout Groups and individual Scout members in other countries is permitted and in fact, encouraged within the world Scout Brotherhood.

5. Eligibility and Applications

Only registered members of SCOUTS SA are allowed to participate in international Scout events inside or outside the borders of SA.

All applications to attend these events must be endorsed by the International Committee.

All applications must be forwarded to the National Office for endorsement before forwarding them to the appropriate National Scout Organisation or event organisers. All direct communication with the organisers must be passed through the national office.

No persons under the age of 14 years will be allowed to travel abroad to participate in International events unless prior permission is obtained from the Chief Commissioner. This will only be permitted in exceptional circumstances and each case is considered on merit. Each international event has an age limit. This will be strictly applied and adhered to.

6. International Letters of Introduction

International Letters of Introduction are issued on request to registered members who travel abroad whether for private, business or scouting purposes and who wish to make contact with scouts in another country. Such a letter comes in the form of a card issued by the World Scout Bureau and it serves to endorse the membership of individuals and is valid only for the duration of travel.

7. Uniform

Scouts and leaders representing SSA at international events are expected to wear the appropriate uniform as described in the SSA Uniform Policy. Any deviations on this to be approved by SSA Exco.

8. Approved International Events

- World Events as described herein.
- National Jamborees of other NSOs
- International Staffing Opportunities at International Scout Centres and Boy Scouts of America Summer Camps and the like
- Invitations to attend events organised by the other NSOs must be approved by the National Office

9. National Colours

The National Scarf (as described in the SSA Uniform Policy) as well as the National Pocket badge are worn by all members (individual or contingent members) who represent SSA at approved International events.

Individuals, Groups, Districts or Regions who are invited to participate in events in another country by Individuals, Groups, Districts or Regions of that country, will not be entitled to wear national colours.

Registered members who are accepted as staff at the Boy Scouts of America Summer Camps, and any one of the International Scout Centres, will be permitted to wear National Colours. The applications for these opportunities must be approved by the International Committee.

10. International Scouting Organisations

The following organisations enjoy consultative status with World Scout Committee.:

- International Union of Muslims Scouts (IUMS)

The International Union of Muslim Scouts (IUMS) is an autonomous organisation with Scout bodies and associations representing Muslim Scouts all over the world. Established in 1989, IUMS is an organisation of dignified aims, based on the affection, brotherhood and peace among the Muslim people. Implicitly, IUMS carries the call of Islam for the spread of moral virtue and peace within the framework of the World Scout Movement.

- International Conference of Catholic Scouts (ICCS)

The International Catholics Conference of Scouting [ICCS] seeks to bridge the “worlds” of Catholicism and Scouting both spiritually and practically so that all its members can contribute to the improvement and the transformation of the society in which we live. The purpose of ICCS is to assist young people and adults in fulfilling that part of the Scout Promise that deals with Duty to God. It actively encourages its members to have positive engagement with the spiritual life of their community.

- International Scout and Guide Fellowship (ISGF)

The International Scout and Guide Fellowship (ISGF) is a worldwide organisation for adults in support of Scouting and Guiding and who want to strengthen the dialogue between communities through community-oriented projects worldwide. The Mission of ISGF is to promote the spirit of the Scout and Guide, Promise and Law in its individual members’ daily lives by continuing personal development, serving in the community and actively supporting the WAGGGS and the WOSM.

SSA is not a registered member of any of the above organisations but acknowledges their existence and status within WOSM.

11. World Events

The following are World Scout events as described by WOSM:

- World Scout Conference

The conference is the governing body, the “general assembly” of Scouting, composed of all member Scout organisations. Its function is to consider the policy and standards of the Scout Movement throughout the world, formulate the general policy of the World Organization, and take the action required to further the purpose of the Movement.

National Scout Organisations must gain recognition from the World Scout Conference to become members of WOSM.

The Conference meets every three years and observers authorised by their National Scout Organization are also eligible to register and attend the event.

One of the functions of the Conference is to elect members of the World Scout Committee, admit new member countries, and select the venues for forthcoming World Scout Events, namely the World Scout Jamboree, the World Scout Moot, the World Scout Conference and the World Scout Youth Forum.

The Chief Scout will lead the delegation of SSA. In the event that this is not possible, the SSA Exco will appoint the leader.

- World Scout Jamboree

The World Scout Jamboree is the largest regular event organised by the Scout Movement. It takes place every four years in a different country. It is above all an educational event to promote peace and understanding among young people all over the world. Like any Scout event, the World Scout Jamboree offers participants a programme that enables them to develop all facets of their character. The programme proposes a wide variety of activities and also places great importance on the way the young people take part, by offering them interaction and real participation in everyday life on their campsite.

The SSA Exco will appoint the Contingent leader.

- World Scout Youth Forum

The World Scout Youth Forum provides an opportunity for young members of World Scouting to discuss and express their views on issues of interest to them. Through preparing inputs and making recommendations to the World Scout Conference and to the World Scout Committee, to which the Forum is linked, participants will develop the skills necessary to strengthen their capacity to take part in decision-making processes. Each National Scout Organization is invited to send a delegation to the World Scout Youth Forum. Only individuals who are members of WOSM can be delegates to the World Scout Youth Forum. The participants must be between their 18th and 26th birthdays in the year of the Forum.

The SSA Exco will choose the youth delegates.

- Jamboree-on-the-Air (JOTA)/Jamboree on the Internet(JOTI)

JOTA is an annual event in which Scouts and Guides all over the world speak to each other by means of amateur radio contacts. Scouting experiences are exchanged and ideas are shared, via the radio waves. The event takes place on the third full weekend of October each year.

JOTI is an annual event when Scouts and Guides all over the world make contact with each other by means of the Internet. It is a real Jamboree during which Scouting experiences are exchanged and ideas are shared, thus contributing to the world brotherhood of Scouting. JOTI is a world-wide event mainly for Scouting groups in all youth programme sections, although members may participate individually.

- World Scout Moot

The World Scout Moot is a gathering of members of senior branches of National Scout Associations (traditionally called Rovers) and other young adult members. Participants range in age from 18 to 26. Moots provide an opportunity for young adults in Scouting to meet together with the objective of improving their international understanding as citizens of the world. The Moot is traditionally held every four years.

The SSA Exco will appoint the Contingent leader.

12. Regional and Sub Regional Events

The following are described as Africa Regional and Southern Zone.

- Africa Region Conference

The conference is held every three years in a different country. The conference is a gathering of all Scouting countries in the Africa Region to share ideas, programmes and resources. It is the vehicle for the Regional Director to discuss and solicit support for the development of Scouting in Africa. The Conference is normally preceded by the Regional Youth Forum where young leaders are given the opportunity to express their views on Scouting in Africa. NSO's are entitled to send delegations of up to six representatives to each of the Forum and Conference. It is encouraged that a gender as well as youth balance is considered when appointing the lists of delegates.

- Africa Scout Jamboree

The jamboree is held regularly in different countries. All registered scouts are entitled to attend this jamboree.

- Africa Scout Day

Africa day is celebrated each year on 13th March. It was declared by the Council of Ministers of the Organization of African Unity (now the Africa Union) meeting in its 62nd Ordinary Session Addis Ababa in Ethiopia on 21st–23rd June 1995 as a day to recognise and acknowledge the work that the Scout Movement was doing in the area of education and moulding of young people, as well as in training of adults. The day is normally themed and a Regional event is hosted by different countries each year. Each NSO is encouraged to join in the recognition of this event by arranging events for their members to participate in.
